Last Saturday Coroner Nance held an inquest over the body of Mr. Samuel E. Poore, of Pendleton Township, who was found dead on his plantation the day before. The verdict of the jury was that hefore. The verdict of the jury was that his death was caused by apoplexy. Mr. Pocre was walking across a field, when he was suddenly stricken down and died immediately, it is supposed. His body was discovered by his son, who came along shortly after the old gentleman was stricken down. Mr. Poore was about 60 years old, and an upright, highly esteemed citizen, whose death is deeply deplored, by a wide circle of friends and relatives throughout the County. A wife and twelve children survive him. On Sunday his remains were interred at Mt. Tabor Church.

Since the first of January a goodly number of our old subscribers have come in and settled all arrears and paid a year in advance, and we have also received a good many new subscribers, to all of whom we sre profoundly thankful for their timely help. Watson, near the Southern suburbs of the City. It was the marriage of his daughter, Miss Minnie Watson, and Mr. W. Eugene Milford. The occasion had been looked forward to with no little pleasure by the nany friends of the happy young couple, and on Tuesday afternoon, when the sun shone its face for the first time in a week, it made every one feel more joyful.

The ceremony was appointed for 8½ o'clock, and when that hour arrived Mr. Watson's beautiful home presented a scene hard to describe. The numerous Chinese lanterns suspended all around the premisos tended to add more brilliancy to the scene on the inside, where everybody was wearing the happiest smiles. The parlors and hall were tastefully festooned with

The attendants formed a circle around the couple, who, kneeling in front of the officiating minister, Rev. E. R. Carswell, were made husband and wife in a beautiful and impressive ceremony.

The bride was most elegantly attired in a handsome brocade silk, en traine, with tulle veil and the ever lovely orange blos-soms. The bridesmaids were also very ele-gantly dressed. The groom and groomsmen wore full dress suits.

After the ceremony and the usual greetings and congratulations, the dining-room was thrown open and for the next hour or two the many guests were served with the most delicious refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Watson were abundant in their hospitality and kind attention to their guests, every

At roll call sixteen members of Grand Jury were present. Fleetwood Clinkscales was appointed Foreman. After being sworn, they were charged by Judge Wallace, in substance as follows: It is your duty to pass upon the bills of indictment which will be handed you by the Solicitor. A bill of indictment is only a formal Last Monday morning Mr. C. Wardlaw received a telegram announcing the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jason Wardlaw, and the serious illness of his brother Jason, who lives near Harmony Grove, Ga. Mr. Wardlaw left Monday afternoon for Harmony Grove to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law, which took place last Tuesday at Harmony Grove. The Grand Jury is of inestimable advantage to the County, and almost indispensable in our system of Government. You are to serve one year, that you have ample time to make thorough investigations, and attend to thorough investigations, and attend to your other duties.

Supplied with a goodly number of bills, the Grand Jury then retired for their consideration. On proper affidavit, Messrs. C. S. Skelton and J. Hillary Masters were excused from serving on Grand Jury; and Messrs. Chas. W. Young, A. J. Stringer, D. A. Ledbetter and John W. Ashley from the Petit Jury.

The Grand Jury returned a true bill in the case of the State vs. Ed. Wilson, house-breaking and compound larceny. Ed. was arraigned and plead guilty, begged for mercy, was assured he would receive it, and sentenced to six months in the Penitentiary.

A true bill being returned against Julius and Peter Clinkscales for breaking into Ivey Low's meat house and taking meat ive it, and sentenced to six months in therefrom, the prisoners were brought in and plead guilty. They begged for mercy and Judge Wallace gave them the lightest penalty the law allows, five years in the Penitentiary at hard labor.

A true bill was reported by the Grand ury against Luther Lawson, charged with murder. Henry Beaty and Luther Stuckey were charged with a like offense as the above, but the case was not pressed, for good reason, and the accused were discharged from appearance before the Court.

Atunroe Durham, one of the few white men who is charged before this Court. men who is charged before this Court, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, or be confined in the Penitentiary for three months for selling liquor without a license. Durham had just completed a term of six month's punishment in the Jail for a similar offence, sent there by the United States Court.

The Grand Jury returned a true bill for murder against William Gambrell; also, true bill for assault of high and aggravated nature against Miles Stewart; also, true bill against Barney O'Dounell for selling liquor to a minor. Allen Martin was arraigned on charge of assault with intent to kill, and carrying concealed weapons. His case went to trial, and the Jury found a verdict of "not guilty." Murray & Murray represented Allen.
